THE GREAT CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION—SHALL WE HOLD A PUBLIC MEETING?

Public meetings have been held at Virginia, Carson, and other points in the State, to arrange for subscriptions being received to the fund for defraying the expenses of the great National Centennial Celebration at Philadelphia on the 4th of July, 1876. It is proposed to make it, as it should be, the grandest success in the way of a great public demonstration and exhibition of industrial, intellectual and moral development, of the nineteenth century—an undertaking of no little magnitude, in this era of World's Fairs and International Industrial Exhibitions. There, to be viewed and adjudged of by an assembled world, are to be displayed the fruits of mechanical, moral and intellectual progress and development, under the stimulating influences of political freedom, for one hundred years—the most practical and impressive way of teaching mankind the history of the great nation which has, within a century, increased its population tenfold and become the leader of human progress in all that benefits and ennobles the race. It will give to the world at large the best practical argument in favor of Representative Government. But the position each section shall hold in this great national festival and jubilee will mainly depend upon the patriotism and liberality of its own citizens. Can we afford to let the young Silver State hold a subordinate position? Shall she not do herself full justice in the generous rivalry of the sisterhood for pre-eminence?—shall she not hold in the display the important relationship she is entitled to as the first treasure-source of the continent? It is proposed that $10,000 shall at once be raised by Nevada, for which 1,000 shares will be issued, at $10 each. To Lincoln county are apportioned 77 shares. Storey county held a public meeting, a few days since, to consider the matter of subscribing stock, and a number of shares of the amount apportioned to her were readily taken. The meeting was adjourned to a "day certain" for further action. Ormsby has also taken a number of the 95 shares apportioned to her. Would it not be well to call a public meeting in Pioche, at an early day, to take this matter of subscribing stock into consideration? Lincoln should not be allowed to lag in the praiseworthy movement.

A PARTY of three men were making the trip to Hualapai, Arizona. Shortly after breakfast at Mart Springs, one of them was taken violently ill, with every indication of having been poisoned. Before they reached Rock Springs the poor fellow died in great agony and was buried. The following day another of the party felt something was wrong with him, and suspecting foul play, refused to go further. He was left by his companions, and returned to Penelope's, from which place medical aid was sent for to Hardyville. It arrived in time to save him, though he had evidently been poisoned. No doubt an attempt was made by one of the party to murder the other two, and thus obtain possession of their effects. The suspicious party bought a bottle of strychnine before they started out from San Bernardino.

The most brutal of all the human brutes has turned up at Ogden, Utah. An Italian lady, with an infant, arriving at the depot too late for the train she was going out on, a fellow calling himself Robert A. Lee tendered her a room, saying it contained a good bed, and that he would sleep at a hotel. She accepted, entered the room, locked the door and went to bed. The villain then returned, and with a cocked revolver in his hand, outraged her person; left, and returned and repeated the outrage. At last the woman seized a chair, smashed the window, threw out her baggage, and dared him to shoot, saying she would just as soon die as live. He had not been arrested. Arrangements have properly been made to lynch him, if caught.

SAN FRANCISCO has turned out another Laura Fair—almost. Lizzie Gannon, of San Jose, aimed a revolver at C. F. McDermott, in the former city, while he and his wife were viewing some pictures in a show-window, and fired; but, fortunately, the bullet missed its mark. She said she wanted to kill him. She is insane, or made a mistake in her man, as McDermott says he never saw her before.

The owner of 1,800 sheep, in San Luis Obispo county, Cal., named George Davis, having been taken sick, hired a man to attend to them. The fellow corralled them, and then left the country. When the corral was next visited, 1,500 out of the 1,800 had died of starvation.

Austinites liberally patronize their skating rink.

She was identified as Mrs. Emma Hopper, who lived with her husband on the Potrero. It is stated that she had been drinking liquor to excess recently, and it is thought her death may have been hastened or caused by dissipation.

Mrs. J. O. Eldridge, wife of the auctioneer, was thrown from a buggy to-day, on Kearny street, and had one of her arms broken.

Alexander Campbell has been employed to defend Lizzie Gannon, who shot at C. F. McDermott. The money for her defense was raised by subscription.

SALT LAKE, March 7. Lee, who brutally outraged a lady at Ogden, was arrested at Toano, brought here and lodged in jail to-day. There was quite a demonstration on his arrival.

LOS ANGELES, March 7. It is rumored that the epizootic has appeared in this county. No cases in this immediate neighborhood. The agent of the Telegraph Stage Company received a telegram this evening to take no more passengers for Owens river. All the horses in Inyo county sick.

Prospects for abundant crops favorable. Twice the amount of barley ever before sown in one year.

YREKA, Cal., March 7. From parties who left the front last evening we learn the Commissioners sent by a squaw a message to Captain Jack, telling him that he or his leading men must come to Fairchild's by this evening or they would refer the matter to the military. Opinion is divided as to how the Indians will receive this message. Should they refuse it is thought active movements will commence at once.

VIRGINIA CITY, March 7. A quarrel occurred in Gold Hill last night between two employees of the Virginia and Truckee Railroad, named Hay and McMartin, and the former struck McMartin on the head with a cant hook, causing a concussion of the brain. Hay was arrested and held to await result of McMartin's injuries.

The epizootic has unmistakably made its appearance here at last. All the horses in Mundell's livery stable, Gold Hill—about 20 in number—are affected, and a number of horses used in quartz teams. The disease made its first appearance here this morning.

W. W. Emery, Colonel commanding at New Orleans, sends the following to General Sherman: "Since my dispatch at 11:15 a. m., the city has been perfectly quiet. Order prevails everywhere. I think the announcement of the President's order to me last night will effect a permanent settlement of the troubles."

NEW YORK, March 6. Judge Blatchford has enjoined the Credit Mobilier from parting with its property till the claims of the widow of James Fisk, Jr., for 20,000 shares are adjudicated.

The battle flags of the Jersey troops during the rebellion were deposited in the State House at Trenton to-day, Gov. Parker making an eloquent speech.

The shooting of Grum, on West Fourth street, was a case of suicide. Marwig was in the room with Grum, when he became abusive. Marwig turned to leave, when Grum fired two shots at him, one of which passed through the shoulder and the other grazed the neck. Grum then fired a shot into his mouth which penetrated the brain, causing instant death. The Coroner ordered the liberation of Marwig.

TWO hundred shares Lake Shore Railroad stock, valued at $20,000, stolen to-day from the Tradesmen's National Bank, Broadway. The thieves escaped.

At a meeting of the Master Carpenters' Association, it was resolved that from the 10th inst. ten hours be adopted as a day's labor, and that the Association hire workmen by the hour.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., March 6. Two German girls, Cornelia Crisenton and Annetta Lawson, were murdered at Snouty Nose Island. Louis Wagner, the supposed murderer, is believed to have left on the noon train for Boston to-day. Wagner attempted to kill Mrs. Huntress, a sister of one of the girls, but she succeeded in getting away. Money was the object of the crime, but the murderer got only $15.

Boston, March 6. When Louis Wagner, the supposed murderer of two women in New Hampshire, was arrested last evening, he was disguised in a new suit of clothes. His old ones were spotted with blood. He denied his crime. Wagner was formerly an employee of Mrs. Huntress, at whose residence the murder was committed. He killed Cornelia Crisenton with one blow of an ax, and immediately after struck the other woman, Annetta Lawson. He then asked for the money. Miss Lawson's head was crushed to a jelly, and Mrs. Huntress narrowly escaped.

Wagner is expected here at noon, and a large crowd awaits his arrival. The Mayor has procured a squad of marines to guard him.

CHICAGO, March 6. While two policemen were trying to arrest two of a crowd of roughs in the southwestern part of the city, about 1 o'clock this morning, they were attacked by the rest of the gang, and one of the officers beaten so severely that it is believed he will die. The other officer discharged his revolver into the crowd, and fatally wounded two men.

Nancy Lanxon, a widow, and her adopted daughter, aged 12 years, were found dead in bed at their house, Mattoon, Ill., yesterday. Their throats were cut from ear to ear. A common case knife was sticking in the wound in Mrs. Lanxon's throat, and her right hand grasping it when discovered. The bodies were nicely covered with the bed clothes, and had evidently been arranged after death. A son of Mrs. Lanxon has been arrested on suspicion of committing the murder.

TOPEKA, Kan., March 6. The Pomeroy investigating committee reported to the Legislature yesterday. The majority report, signed by four members, finds Pomeroy guilty of attempting to corrupt members of the Legislature by offers of money. The minority report, signed by three members, finds the charge not proven. The minority report was adopted by the House, and the majority report by the Senate.

CORNING, N. Y., March 6. A fire occurred last night at Blossburg. It originated in the cellar of May & Silverman's fancy store; cause unknown. It destroyed 35 buildings, containing about 45 places of business, together with the Eagle Hotel, and nearly the entire business portion of the town. Her examination commences on Friday. Noyes Clerk, one of the forgers, was up for examination, but was remanded for a week.

PARIS, March 6. Up to date France has paid Germany three and a half billion francs on account of the war indemnity.

DAY TRAINS.—It is understood (says the Reno Journal) that a change will shortly be made in the time of the overland trains, by which the Eastern-bound train will leave San Francisco at 7 o'clock p. m. instead of 7 o'clock in the morning, as heretofore. This will bring the trains to Reno in the daytime.

The Wasatch and Jordan Valley Railroad, in Utah is nearly completed to Granite, and will shortly be running over about ten miles of track. The enterprise has been pushed with vigor in spite of the severity of the season.
